

BOB BARTLETT MD

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

---

Dr. Bartlett is a 1980 Magna cum Laude graduate of the University of South Alabama School of Medicine and an attending physician at St Luke's Medical Center, which is the largest hyperbaric facility in North America. He is a Certified Physician Executive (CPE) and is certified in Wound Care, Hyperbaric Medicine, and Emergency Medicine. In addition, he is the Editor in Chief and founding member for the creation of two certification exams. One is the physician exam for hyperbaric medicine and the other is the physician exam for wound care. He has completed training from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration in Dive Medicine and is the past President of the American College of Hyperbaric Medicine.

Educationally, he has trained more than 5,000 health care professionals in hyperbaric medicine. In 2010 he received the Eric Kindwall award from the American College of Hyperbaric Medicine in recognition of his contributions to hyperbaric medicine. In 2011 he received the "Masters in Wound Care" designation by the American Professional Wound Care Association. In addition to his 30 years of wound care experience he has garnered considerable management experience through the creation and direction of several health care companies and one health care foundation. As the CEO for Clinical-Connections he successfully connects hospitals, physicians, and patients through a suite of web based services (HospitalConnections.com). His interests include oxygen dynamics, knowledge engineering, and e-learning theory and design.
